Dingley's Promise Training

Building Early Years Inclusion

Introduction to Early Years Inclusive Practice Training Course

Would you like to have more knowledge and confidence to work inclusively with the children you support?

This course provides an introduction to early years inclusion, helping educators develop their understanding of the needs of all children, including those with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). You'll explore practical approaches to inclusive practice and develop the knowledge and confidence to create an environment where every child can participate, learn and thrive.

This course covers:

- Building awareness of the needs of all children, particularly those with SEND.
- Developing confidence in supporting children with different developmental levels and levels of need.
- Strengthening inclusive practice across your setting to help every child learn and thrive.
- Working in partnership with families and as a team to meet the needs of children with SEND.

"Great course for learning new techniques and new ideas for the learning environment."

Dingley's Promise trainee

YOU WILL EXPLORE:

✓ How the environment can enable learning for all children

✓ Adaptations to help create a more accessible, sensory-friendly learning environment

✓ Different developmental levels and learning styles, and how to support them

✓ The importance of teamwork and partnership working when supporting children with SEND

Join Dingley's Promise in transforming inclusive practice in the early years, to give every child the best start in life.

Register today for our 'Introduction to Early Years Inclusive Practice' Training Course by visiting dingley.org.uk/training/